Dear Mrs. Dobbs:

Your recent letter, with enclosure, has been received. Please understand that this Commission does not have authority to involve itself in court cases or to assist citizens with their cases or those involving family members. Its sole jurisdiction involves allegations of judicial ethics violations. Your concerns do not involve judicial ethics but involve legal and procedural issues, matters that are reviewed solely through the courts by motion or appeal, and this Commission lacks constitutional authority to act as an alternative to that process. For this reason the Commission regrets it is unable to take any action in the matter, and I am returning your enclosure to you with this letter for your use.

Sincerely,
